Features

Futures 101

Trading interest rates for added advantage (interest rate basics) January, p. 60
It's all in your head (psychology of trading) February, p. 64
Choosing a broker (first steps to trading) March, p. 66
Stating the not-so-obvious (reading broker statements) April, p. 66
Better than average (moving averages) May, p. 64
Catch a break (breakout systems) June, p. 60
To everything, (pat)tern, (pat)tern, (pat)tern (chart patterns) July, p. 64
What goes up must come down (basics of oscillators) August, p. 64
System building basics (creating and testing trading systems) September, p. 68
Easing tax time for traders (tax issues for traders) October, p. 66
Candles shed light on a sticky subject (candlestick charting) November, p. 70
Serving just what you ordered (options in order entry) December, p. 62

Managed Money

Europe in bloom (growth of European hedge funds in United States) January, p. 68
Top traders of 2000* (top industry traders) March, p. 70
A new life for managed futures (the future of managed futures) April, p. 70
Profiting outside the box (tips for improving profitability) May, p. 68
The science of order execution (factors of good order execution) June, p. 64
Is the trend still your friend? (analysis of trend following) July, p. 68
Will new markets mean new opportunities? (what to look for in new markets) August, p. 68
Fishing in a bigger pond (adding hedge funds to a portfolio) September, p. 74
Hot new CTAs (new trading successes) October, p. 72
Back in the game (industry rebuilding post-9/11) November, p. 74
Shrinking world opens arbitrage window (arbitrage opportunities) December, p. 66

Markets

U.S. economic forecast: boom or gloom?* (2001 economic forecast) January, p. 28
A hot market for cold times* (energy prices) February, p. 26
January effect: 2001 style (economic turnaround or further slump?) March, p. 28
Weak economic shadow dims currency outlook* (currencies forecast) April, p. 28
Precious metals: Bulls still playing the waiting game* (gold and silver outlook) May, p. 26
Grains depend on weather and a whole lot more (grain factors) June, p. 26
U.S. interest rates: Split personality* (trading interest rates) July, p. 26
Stocks staging a comeback?* (what to expect in stocks) August, p. 28
Will dollar fold in weak world?* (euro gaining on dollar?) September, p. 28
Opec keeping a cool hand* (high demand leaves Opec in control) October, p. 28
9/11: Redefining the markets* (consumers key in market rebound) November, p. 28
Grains, soybeans planted in a rut (what's in store for grains) December, p. 28

Technology & Trading

Rolling your own intermarket index (creating your own index) January, p. 56
Exploiting report day tendencies in Treasuries (report day strategies still key for bonds) February, p. 56
Intermarket analysis and economic forecasting (forecasting with intermarket analysis) March, p. 60
The economy & markets: Trading the relationship (how to trade stocks' correlation to economy) April, p. 60
The many faces of markets (tendencies of different market moves) May, p. 56
New age trading systems for dynamic markets (steps for building adaptive trading systems) June, p. 54
Delving for dynamic dollars (constructing a logical premise) July, p. 58
Managing financial risk with fractal geometry (measuring cash flow) August, p. 56
Equity futures: Traders site in this bold new market (retail opportunities in equity futures) September, p. 58
Artificial intelligence: The newest answer in market analysis (new method in analyzing markets) October, p. 56
Building a trading robot (adapting game theory to trading) November, p. 60
Hello, Mr. Frankenstein (combining subsystems into one model) December, p. 54

Trade Trends

Surviving the Chicago way (future of the CBOT) January, p. 72
Tops and bottoms (best and worst of 2000) February, p. 68
In fraud we trust (recap of Intrust investigation) March, p. 76
Eurex still king in 2000 (Traders' View of the World) April, p. 74
It's the end of the day, do you know your settlement price? (investigating P-Tech scandal at Nybot) May, p. 74
The changing face of Europe* (Europe update) June, p. 68
The future is now (preparing for equity futures) July, p. 72
Trading around the world (rules of international exchanges) August, p. 76
Personalized brokerage in an automated world (evolution of brokerage) September, p. 78
Ready or not... (equity futures update) October, p. 76
Following the paper trail (investigating suspect trades before 9/11) November, p. 78
Top 50 Brokers* (ranking of largest futures brokers) December, p. 70

Trading Techniques

Nothing average about it (moving average analysis) January, p. 36
A MACD combo to counter risk (strategy for lowering risk) January, p. 40
Is it the same game? (trading now vs. then) January, p. 44
Knowledge: Gaps (handling market shocks) January, p. 48
We've lost that bullish feeling (oats/notes spread) January, p. 52
Measuring market moves (testing short-term price extremes) February, p. 34
Do breakout systems work on stocks? (breakout profits in equities) February, p. 38
Profiting from extremes in fear and greed (sentiment indicator) February, p. 44
Trading at your discretion (discretionary trading systems) February, p. 48
Crying over spilled milk (equity index futures) February, p. 52
Trading single stock futures (trading strategies) March, p. 38
Speaking volumes (volume and price patterns) March, p. 42
Wrestling with a bear market (tips for trading bear markets) March, p. 48
Springtime for bran flakes (wheat spreads) March, p. 52
Stressing the fundamentals (portfolio stress tests) March, p. 56
ChronoGraphics trading edge (using candlesticks to confirm trading signals) April, p. 34
Plan ahead (point-and-figure charting) April, p. 40
System testing via Monte Carlo (Monte Carlo simulation) April, p. 44
Think before you spread (introduction to spreads) April, p. 48
Qualifying streaks (quantitative analysis) April, p. 56
Volatility matters: better position sizing (position sizing and volatility) May, p. 34
Market realities and options pricing (correcting the bell curve) May, p. 38
The fundamentals of forex (fundamental analysis) May, p. 42
Convert to the cause (convertible bonds) May, p. 48
The art of managing multiple positions (diversification) May, p. 52
Trading S&Ps with COT (analyzing net commercial position) June, p. 30
No cure yet for Mad Dow disease (stock market woes) June, p. 34
Convertibles: You can run but you can't hide (hurdles in convertibles) June, p. 38
More intelligent option pricing (statistical anomalies and option pricing) June, p. 42
Top 10 systems tackle a new millennium (top performing systems) June, p. 48
Scoping the Nasdaq (Nasdaq 100 futures) July, p. 34
Bonds: A first-order system with second-order polynomials (analyzing past data) July, p. 38
Next civilization, no commodities! (slide in physical commodity prices) July, p. 42
By Garch, volatility trading works (conditional variance) July, p. 48
Classifying your trading system (style-based classification process) July, p. 52
The RSI revisited (relative strength index) August, p. 34
Delivering the day-trading experience (Larry Williams, godfather of gurus?) August, p. 38
Teaching the old Vix new tricks (measuring market volatility) August, p. 42
Should diversification stop at water's edge? (international diversification) August, p. 48
Matrix forecasting (input selection) August, p. 52
Slow growth can mean steady profits (positioning in slowing economy) September, p. 36
Getting the angle with Drummond geometry (crowd behavior) September, p. 40
Probability theory: a winning bet (measuring and assuming risk) September, p. 44
Don't fight the Fed — You just might win (going against the Fed) September, p. 50
Trading signs of the times (long-term cycles) September, p. 54
Curves you can't ignore (bond yield curve) October, p. 34
A day in the life of a trader (rundown of a trader's day) October, p. 38
Silver in the data mine (pattern recognition and silver fundamentals) October, p. 42
Walking a fine line (trading system optimization) October, p. 48
The Elliott-Fibonacci connection (interrelations between two methods) October, p. 52
You bought and you held. Now what? (changing strategies) November, p. 36
A strategy for trading multiple time frames (identifying tradable trends) November, p. 40
Good trading is not rocket science (trading pitfalls and suggestions) November, p. 44

Features

Futures 101

Trading interest rates for added advantage (interest rate basics) January, p. 60
It's all in your head (psychology of trading) February, p. 64
Choosing a broker (first steps to trading) March, p. 66
Stating the not-so-obvious (reading broker statements) April, p. 66
Better than average (moving averages) May, p. 64
Catch a break (breakout systems) June, p. 60
To everything, (pat)tern, (pat)tern, (pat)tern (chart patterns) July, p. 64
What goes up must come down (basics of oscillators) August, p. 64
System building basics (creating and testing trading systems) September, p. 68
Easing tax time for traders (tax issues for traders) October, p. 66
Candles shed light on a sticky subject (candlestick charting) November, p. 70
Serving just what you ordered (options in order entry) December, p. 62

Managed Money

Europe in bloom (growth of European hedge funds in United States) January, p. 68
Top traders of 2000* (top industry traders) March, p. 70
A new life for managed futures (the future of managed futures) April, p. 70
Profiting outside the box (tips for improving profitability) May, p. 68
The science of order execution (factors of good order execution) June, p. 64
Is the trend still your friend? (analysis of trend following) July, p. 68
Will new markets mean new opportunities? (what to look for in new markets) August, p. 68
Fishing in a bigger pond (adding hedge funds to a portfolio) September, p. 74
Hot new CTAs (new trading successes) October, p. 72
Back in the game (industry rebuilding post-9/11) November, p. 74
Shrinking world opens arbitrage window (arbitrage opportunities) December, p. 66

Markets

U.S. economic forecast: boom or gloom?* (2001 economic forecast) January, p. 28
A hot market for cold times* (energy prices) February, p. 26
January effect: 2001 style (economic turnaround or further slump?) March, p. 28
Weak economic shadow dims currency outlook* (currencies forecast) April, p. 28
Precious metals: Bulls still playing the waiting game* (gold and silver outlook) May, p. 26
Grains depend on weather and a whole lot more (grain factors) June, p. 26
U.S. interest rates: Split personality* (trading interest rates) July, p. 26
Stocks staging a comeback?* (what to expect in stocks) August, p. 28
Will dollar fold in weak world?* (euro gaining on dollar?) September, p. 28
Opec keeping a cool hand* (high demand leaves Opec in control) October, p. 28
9/11: Redefining the markets* (consumers key in market rebound) November, p. 28
Grains, soybeans planted in a rut (what's in store for grains) December, p. 28

Technology & Trading

Rolling your own intermarket index (creating your own index) January, p. 56
Exploiting report day tendencies in Treasuries (report day strategies still key for bonds) February, p. 56
Intermarket analysis and economic forecasting (forecasting with intermarket analysis) March, p. 60
The economy & markets: Trading the relationship (how to trade stocks' correlation to economy) April, p. 60
The many faces of markets (tendencies of different market moves) May, p. 56
New age trading systems for dynamic markets (steps for building adaptive trading systems) June, p. 54
Delving for dynamic dollars (constructing a logical premise) July, p. 58
Managing financial risk with fractal geometry (measuring cash flow) August, p. 56
Equity futures: Traders site in this bold new market (retail opportunities in equity futures) September, p. 58
Artificial intelligence: The newest answer in market analysis (new method in analyzing markets) October, p. 56
Building a trading robot (adapting game theory to trading) November, p. 60
Hello, Mr. Frankenstein (combining subsystems into one model) December, p. 54

Trade Trends

Surviving the Chicago way (future of the CBOT) January, p. 72
Tops and bottoms (best and worst of 2000) February, p. 68
In fraud we trust (recap of Intrust investigation) March, p. 76
Eurex still king in 2000 (Traders' View of the World) April, p. 74
It's the end of the day, do you know your settlement price? (investigating P-Tech scandal at Nybot) May, p. 74
The changing face of Europe* (Europe update) June, p. 68
The future is now (preparing for equity futures) July, p. 72
Trading around the world (rules of international exchanges) August, p. 76
Personalized brokerage in an automated world (evolution of brokerage) September, p. 78
Ready or not... (equity futures update) October, p. 76
Following the paper trail (investigating suspect trades before 9/11) November, p. 78
Top 50 Brokers* (ranking of largest futures brokers) December, p. 70

Trading Techniques

Nothing average about it (moving average analysis) January, p. 36
A MACD combo to counter risk (strategy for lowering risk) January, p. 40
Is it the same game? (trading now vs. then) January, p. 44
Knowledge: Gaps (handling market shocks) January, p. 48
We've lost that bullish feeling (oats/notes spread) January, p. 52
Measuring market moves (testing short-term price extremes) February, p. 34
Do breakout systems work on stocks? (breakout profits in equities) February, p. 38
Profiting from extremes in fear and greed (sentiment indicator) February, p. 44
Trading at your discretion (discretionary trading systems) February, p. 48
Crying over spilled milk (equity index futures) February, p. 52
Trading single stock futures (trading strategies) March, p. 38
Speaking volumes (volume and price patterns) March, p. 42
Wrestling with a bear market (tips for trading bear markets) March, p. 48
Springtime for bran flakes (wheat spreads) March, p. 52
Stressing the fundamentals (portfolio stress tests) March, p. 56
ChronoGraphics trading edge (using candlesticks to confirm trading signals) April, p. 34
Plan ahead (point-and-figure charting) April, p. 40
System testing via Monte Carlo (Monte Carlo simulation) April, p. 44
Think before you spread (introduction to spreads) April, p. 48
Qualifying streaks (quantitative analysis) April, p. 56
Volatility matters: better position sizing (position sizing and volatility) May, p. 34
Market realities and options pricing (correcting the bell curve) May, p. 38
The fundamentals of forex (fundamental analysis) May, p. 42
Convert to the cause (convertible bonds) May, p. 48
The art of managing multiple positions (diversification) May, p. 52
Trading S&Ps with COT (analyzing net commercial position) June, p. 30
No cure yet for Mad Dow disease (stock market woes) June, p. 34
Convertibles: You can run but you can't hide (hurdles in convertibles) June, p. 38
More intelligent option pricing (statistical anomalies and option pricing) June, p. 42
Top 10 systems tackle a new millennium (top performing systems) June, p. 48
Scoping the Nasdaq (Nasdaq 100 futures) July, p. 34
Bonds: A first-order system with second-order polynomials (analyzing past data) July, p. 38
Next civilization, no commodities! (slide in physical commodity prices) July, p. 42
By Garch, volatility trading works (conditional variance) July, p. 48
Classifying your trading system (style-based classification process) July, p. 52
The RSI revisited (relative strength index) August, p. 34
Delivering the day-trading experience (Larry Williams, godfather of gurus?) August, p. 38
Teaching the old Vix new tricks (measuring market volatility) August, p. 42
Should diversification stop at water's edge? (international diversification) August, p. 48
Matrix forecasting (input selection) August, p. 52
Slow growth can mean steady profits (positioning in slowing economy) September, p. 36
Getting the angle with Drummond geometry (crowd behavior) September, p. 40
Probability theory: a winning bet (measuring and assuming risk) September, p. 44
Don't fight the Fed — You just might win (going against the Fed) September, p. 50
Trading signs of the times (long-term cycles) September, p. 54
Curves you can't ignore (bond yield curve) October, p. 34
A day in the life of a trader (rundown of a trader's day) October, p. 38
Silver in the data mine (pattern recognition and silver fundamentals) October, p. 42
Walking a fine line (trading system optimization) October, p. 48
The Elliott-Fibonacci connection (interrelations between two methods) October, p. 52
You bought and you held. Now what? (changing strategies) November, p. 36
A strategy for trading multiple time frames (identifying tradable trends) November, p. 40
Good trading is not rocket science (trading pitfalls and suggestions) November, p. 44

The X-factor: Synthesizing trading system reports (measuring trading systems) November, p. 50
Hedging covered calls: A way to profit while minimizing risk (managing covered calls) November, p. 54
Playing the numbers the S&P way (exchange-traded funds) December, p. 32
E-forex: Currency trading for the rest of us (spot currency trading for smaller investors) December, p. 38
Silver: Tarnished no more (silver's bullish ride) December, p. 44
Option spreads are not as simple as they seem (monitoring option spreads) December, p. 50

Special Issue

What is behind your front-end? (independent software vendors' new features) p. 6
Confessions of an individual equity futures trader (tips for trading) p. 10
New order to Internet-based screens (Web-based trading) p. 14
Making the match (finding the best trading screen for you) p. 22
Top systems for short-term trading (comparing short-term trading systems) p. 28
Traders, choose your weapon (online trading software shootout) p. 32
Day-trading modern markets (old strategy for new markets) p. 36
Buy, sell or hold: Integrating new marketplaces and the futures industry (FCM challenges) p. 40
Wireless wonders (fully mobile trading?) p. 50

Departments

Book Review

Dancing with Lions by Trader X and Trend Forecasting with Technical Analysis by Louis Mendelsohn. April, p. 83
Energy Derivatives: Pricing and Risk Management by Les Clemlow and Chris Strickland. May, p. 89
The Encyclopedia of Trading Strategies by Jeffrey Owen Katz and Donna L. McCormick. June, p. 74
The Art of Electronic Futures Trading by William Kaiser and James Green, and Energy Derivatives: Trading emerging markets by Jeremy Wilcox and Peter Fusaro. August, p. 86
Risk: The New Management Imperative in Finance by James T. Gleason. October, p. 86
The Guts & Glory of Day Trading by Mark Ingebretsen, and Derivatives Diary: The Strategies of an Independent Fund Manager by Richard Folcker. November, p. 86

Editor's Note

Fallen king of the world. January, p. 8
Natural High? February, p. 8
Rich with change. March, p. 8
Ouch! April, p. 8
The plot thickens. May, p. 8
Wins of war. June, p. 8
An odyssey alright. July, p. 8
Happy days ahead? August, p. 8
Currency mayhem? September, p. 8
In memory of.... October, p. 8
Capitalist jihad. November, p. 8
In defense of brokers. December, p. 8

Market Strategy

Bond yields to rise as bull wanes. January, p. 34
Know thy Fed: Forecasting the Fed with futures. February, p. 24
What a difference a year makes. March, p. 36
Demand drives beef bull market despite fears. April, p. 26
The dollar vs. the Nasdaq: A trick to click. May, p. 32
Gann, cycles hint at bean bear. June, p. 24
EUR/USD, GBP/USD: A correlation tale. July, p. 32
Bottoms up! Late summer rally likely for Dow. August, p. 26
What dollar reversal? September, p. 34
Soybeans: A classic trading pattern. October, p. 26
The song doesn't remain the same. November, p. 34
Swedes expose top forecasters. December, p. 26

MarketWatch

Another year, another set of challenges for the Fed. January, p. 33
How will the Fed handle unusual uncertainty? March, p. 26
The Fed's care and feeding of Wall Street. May, p. 24
Will the Fed win its 'foot race'? July, p. 24
Fed debates final funds rate setting. September, p. 26
The Fed's 'finest hour.' November, p. 26

Online Trading

Resolutions for the online trader. January, p. 64
So many indicators, so little time. February, p. 62
Wireless trading: Beyond online. March, p. 65
The waning online hype. May, p. 63
Online aspirin for online traders. June, p. 59
The virtual guru. August, p. 61
System testing for an online world. October, p. 64
Direct access gaining speed. November, p. 66
A helpful tool for the beginner. December, p. 60

Software Review

Real Tick 7.1. January, p. 65
Captools Individual Investor 1.55b. February, p. 60
Aspen Graphics 3.71. March, p. 64
Black-Scholes Animation. April, p. 64
Performance Suite 2000 by Rina Systems. May, p. 62
TradingSolutions from NeuroDimension. June, p. 58
Bull's-Eye Broker by Archer Analysis. July, p. 62
TradeCast Elite by TradeCast Securities. August, p. 60
Anyware RealTime WebSheet. September, p. 64
John Murphy's Chart Pattern Recognition. October, p. 62
Fractal Finance. November, p. 64
TradeStation Platform. December, p. 58

Trader Profile

Bernard Bonekamp: Trading for the ages. January, p. 86
Dennis Leontyev: Tape reading for profits. February, p. 86
Kottke Associates: Leveraging the crush. March, p. 90
DragonHorse: Trend-following in the Far East. April, p. 90
Luc Van Hof: The sweet music of the markets. May, p. 90
DigiLog: What are friends for?. June, p. 86
Ozbek: Always have an opinion. July, p. 86
Bernard Drury: Personal projects that pay off. August, p. 90
Sam Gover: Turning numbers into money. September, p. 94
Essex: Mining for gold. October, p. 90
Fall River: Designing profits. November, p. 98
Jerry Vlam: From pit to screen. December, p. 94

Trading Places

E-learning firm gets new boss. January, p. 18
Eurex architect moves on. February, p. 17
TT adds new U.S. boss. March, p. 20
Ewing brings political experience to firm. April, p. 20
Clapp moves to First Union. May, p. 18
Viola latest change at Nymex. June, p. 18
Goone goes for broader role. July, p. 18
Heale new LME chief. August, p. 20
Fitzsimmons assumes Liffe/Nasdaq helm. September, p. 20
Collins climbs the ladder. October, p. 20
Rainer takes new approach. November, p. 20
Richards joins Nasdaq/Liffe. December, p. 20

Trendlines

January, p. 12 — Expansion comes to electronic access • Stock market swings with election news • Spain to trade stock futures • CFTC finalizes rules.
February, p. 12 — Law lifts ban on equity futures • Former Griffin CFO faces criminal charges • Locals sue in Nybot saga • CME works fees
March, p. 12 — CBOT chief outlines goals • Marc Rich finds sympathy with outgoing prez • Nagging setbacks continue to threaten exchange • Comex traders charged in front-running scam • U.S. stock futures trading — overseas
April, p. 12 — Hurdles threaten single stock futures • CBOT hires new CEO • Intrust clients sue regulator • Threat to T-bond heats up • CME trading system defies glitches • Bush pushes tax cut at CME • Split for clearing firms
May, p. 12 — Liffe and Nasdaq partner on stock futures • Broad-based index rule eases tax burden • Refco expands with retail firm • ADX liquidity crunch forces close • Eurex bobl gets squeezed • CBOT/CBOE keep it out of courts • Prison time for over-trader
June, p. 12 — Shareholders sound off • Dumping drives lumber volatility • Online start-up courts IPE • CME lifts E-Mini contract limits • Seg funds optional for some
July, p. 12 — Equity futures bring rivals together • CBOT moves MidAm upstairs, launches mini-Dow futures • LSE on public bandwagon • P-Tech fiasco fallout • CME joins Euro index race • Front-end firm slashes jobs • Euro exchanges expand offerings.
August, p. 12 — The fight is on • Another platform for eSpeed • Nyfe settles, regulators busy in June • Lawsuit threatens CBOE • MTS strengthens bond network
September, p. 12 — Chicago exchanges make nice on rights • Wine producers snub futures • Refco hit with huge fine • CFTC nails Eisler, settles with Nyfe • CBOT enters swap fray
October, p. 12 — Terrorist attack on WTC kills 5,000, halts trading • Nymex branches into Brent
November, p. 12 — Liffe put on bidding block • WTC collapse buries gold • Drive to delay equity futures • NYC exchanges up and running
December, p. 12 — Consolidation wave hits Liffe • Prank at Merc highlights changed world • 30-year T-bond gets the hook • Equity futures launch delayed • Early success for commodity gauge • Firms cut jobs to ease struggles